- 3 Parts to setting up a payment account:
 - Your Information (like setting up a bank account)
 - Who should get paid
 - How you want to get paid

The screenshot shows the TicketSignup interface for setting up payment acceptance. At the top, the event name is 'Rise Up: The Women's Brunch (This Event is in Draft Mode)'. A progress bar indicates four steps: 1. Basic Info, 2. Tickets, 3. Payment (current step), and 4. Finish. The main heading is 'Accept Payments' with the question 'How would you like to get paid?'. Three options are available: 'Create New Payment Account' (selected), 'Use Existing Payment Account', and 'Other Options'. Below this is a 'Let's Get Started!' section with a 'Create New Payment Account' button. A PCI Security Standards Council logo is present with the text 'Process Your Payments With Confidence'. The next question is 'How would you like to handle processing fees?' with two radio button options: 'Processing fee paid by ticket purchaser.' and 'Processing fee comes out of the charge.'. Below that are 'Ticket Purchase Processing Fee Settings' with a checkbox 'Give ticket purchaser the option to pay the processing fee during the ticket purchase.' and a dropdown menu for 'Customize the statement description for your event's transactions to help ticket purchasers identify them on their card/bank statement.'. The final question is 'What additional payment methods are allowed?' with a checked checkbox for 'Allow Apple Pay' and a 'Save & Continue' button at the bottom.
